

Vocabula Caesaris (IV.23-25) nanciscor, -i, nactus sum, to get, obtain idoneus, -a, -um, suitable, fit tempestat, -atis f. time, season, weather fere adv. almost vigilia, -ae f. watch solvo, -ere, solvi, solutum, to loosen; pay; launch (ships)

ulterior, -oris, farther progredior, -i, -gressus sum, to proceed, go conscendo, -ere, -scendi, -scensum, to climb up; board (a ship) paulum, -i, a little bit tardus, -a, -um, late, slow administro (1) to administer, perform, do atingo, -ere, -tigi, -tactum, to touch; reach collis, -is m. hill expono, -ere, -posui, -positus, to place out, expose, display conspicio, -ere, -spexi, -spectum, to catch sight of, observe angustus, -a, -um, narrow uti = ut superior, -oris, upper, higher litus, -oris n. shore telum, -i n. weapon, missile adigo, -ere, -egi, -actum, to drive (cattle); collect (ships); hurl (weapon) egredior, -i, -gressus sum, to go out, set out nequaquam adv. by no means, not at all eo adv. there, to that place in ancoris = at anchor fio, fieri, factus sum, to be done volo, velle, volui, to wish, want ostendo, -ere, -di, -tum, to show ratio, -ionis f. doctrine, science, theory postulo (1) to demand celer, celeris, celere, swift instabilis, -e, unstable, changing motus, -us m. movement, motion nutus, -us m. nod; command ad tempus = at a moment's notice aestus, -us m. tide tollo, -ere, sustuli, sublatum, to raise, lift praemitto, -ere, -misi, missum, to send in advance equitatus, -us m. cavalry essedarius, -i, British war charioteer plerumque adv. generally, mostly, often genus, -eris n. type, kind utor, uti, usus sum + abl. to use consuesco, -ere, -evi, to be accustomed subsequor, -i, -secutus sum, to pursue altum, -i n. the deep, the open sea impeditus, -a, -um, unencumbered onus, -eris n. burden, load opprimo, -ere, -pressi, -pressus, to oppress, weigh down simul adv. at the same time desilio, -ire, -ui, to jump down fluctus, -us m. wave aridum, -i, dry land expeditus, -a, -um, encumbered audacter adv. boldly conicio, -ere, -ieci, -ectum, to hurl, cast insuefactus, -a, -um, accustomed, trained incito (1) to urge on, incite omnino adv. altogether, completely pugna, -ae f. fight, brawl, battle alacritas, -atis f. swiftness, alacrity studium, -i n. zeal, eagerness pedestris, -e adj. infantry; on land animadverto, -ere, -i, -sum, to notice species, -ei f. sight, appearance inustitatus, -a, -um, strange, unfamiliar ad usum = for the purpose remus, -i m. oar latus, -eris n. side funda, -ae f. sling; slingshot sagitta, -ae f. arrow tormentum, -i n. catapult propello, -ere, -puli, -pulsum, to drive forward submoveo, -ere, -movi, -motum, to remove, expel, drive away figura, -ae f. shape, appearance permotus, -a, -um, thoroughly disturbed consisto, -ere, -stiti, to stop, stand still pedem referre = to retreat cunctor, -ari, -atus sum, to delay altitudo, -inis f. height; depth aquila, -ae f. eagle obtestor, -ari, -atus sum, to call to witness evenio, -ire, -veni, -ventum, to come out commilito, -onis m. fellow soldier prodo, -ere, -didi, -ditum, to betray officium, -i, duty praesto, -are, -stiti, to exhibit, display proicio, -ere, -ieci, -iectum, to cast forward coepi, coepisse, to have begun inter se = among themselves; one another dedecus, -oris n. disgrace, dishonor admitto, -ere, -misi, -missum, to allow